

Ep. 83: The World Adores An Original

November 4, 2017

This week, former beauty director for Vogue and host of American Beauty Star, Sarah Brown, gives us the behind-the-scenes scoop on the reality competition TV show and a look back at her 15-year career at the magazine. Perhaps more importantly, she shares the beauty products she can't live without (see the list below).

But before the big interview, we have some things to discuss! First up: all the new hair and body products coming out now (and very soon) that feature micellar technology. We also talk about new laser treatments that rejuvenate your lady parts, including CO2RE Intima, which is available at doctor's offices, including Dr. Paul Frank's in New York City (you may remember him from Episode 19 of the podcast). Finally, we both got a chance to see The Kevyn Aucoin Story: Larger Than Life, the new movie about makeup artist Kevyn Aucoin's life, and we share our thoughts. If you want details on Jess's bachelorette party, keep listening 'til the Raise A Wand segment at the end.

Below are all the products, places, and brands mentioned on the show. If you have any questions (or just want to shoot us a hey!) feel free to reach out to us on Instagram, Twitter or by email (info@fatmascara.com).
